Self-catering Apartments Newsletter – Autumn 2017

Hello, here is the big news

We are building two new self-catering apartments over the winter and closing the B&B. Work starts in October. Building on the success of our current apartments, the new ones will be open-plan with a mezzanine bedroom and with big windows overlooking our fantastic views. However, they will be a bit bigger with 'pewter' coloured cladding and steel guttering. We are also planning to have cosy stoves for those winter evenings and walk-in showers.

We will be putting pictures and updates on our Facebook site, and are hoping to get some good filming of the timber frame going up. (We've already had fun with giant drills onsite to bore down 30 metres).

Nature:

The long, warm summer meant a great year for the birds – the swallows outside No5 had two broods, although the wagtails did move from the flowerbed for their second. The thistles in the field are attracting huge flocks (charms?) of goldfinches. And we have bats (Common Pipistrelles) – so they will be carefully moved on by our batman and bat boxes (as well as sparrow terraces) provided.

The boar piglets at the dump have grown up and moved away.

Activities News:

We tried out the Footgolf at Forest Hills Golf Club – it was brilliant fun. 9 big holes, 5 footballs and lots of laughing.

Wild swimming has become a big thing locally, with organised days plus a website giving you details on the best spots <http://www.wildswimming.co.uk/map/symonds-yat/>

Try out Kentchurch Court – listed by The Guardian as one of the UK’s best secret gardens. It is dog friendly and only half an hour away.

For a creative break, how about print-making? I spent two lovely days at Annelise Appleby’s studio and came away with works good enough to decorate the apartments.

Filming News:

DIY SOS filmed a build in Monmouth, and had a disastrous attempt at canoeing down the Wye – they were very wet by the time they got to The Saracen's Head.

King Arthur – Legend of the Sword - the latest blockbuster from writer/director/producer Guy Ritchie, and starring Charlie Hunnam and Jude Law, has been filmed at iconic locations in the epic British landscape including the Forest of Dean in the retelling the story of King Arthur. It was in cinemas this May (you may remember the reviews of David Beckham's acting?!).

Don't forget to post on our facebook site with any photos or experiences, and do put us on Tripadvisor if you enjoyed a stay with us.

We would like to keep you informed of offers, events in the area and ongoing improvements (no more than twice a year). If you wish to be removed from our mailing list, please let us know.
